

Terms of Use for Genes to Cells Cover Images

JPEG files of the Genes to Cells cover images are available for download on the website of the Molecular Biology Society of Japan (MBSJ). The copyright of these images is jointly owned by the Molecular Biology Society of Japan (MBSJ) and John Wiley & Sons Australia, Ltd.

The cover images may be freely used only for personal, non-commercial purposes, such as private viewing.

In addition, individuals affiliated with research or educational institutions are permitted to use the cover images for non-commercial educational materials or presentations, provided that appropriate copyright credit is clearly displayed.

However, prior permission is required for any of the following types of use:

- Any commercial use
- Reproduction or redistribution in publications, websites, exhibitions, etc.
- Use in educational or presentation materials that will be made publicly available (whether commercial or non-commercial)
- Any modification of the images (including trimming, color adjustment, etc.)

To request permission, please contact the MBSJ Secretariat with details including the intended purpose, medium, and manner of use.
